Each spring the Office of Personnel issues a memorandum to the Directorates and other appropriate offices announcing the particulars concerning various public service awards and inviting suggestions for Agency nominees. Included in the list of public service awards is the Justice Tom C. Clark Award. The Office of Legislative Counsel initially suggested a nominee but later withdrew his name from consideration because they felt he lacked sufficient service to be a viable candidate. Therefore, the Agency has no nominee for the 1979 Tom C. Clark Award and the attached letter advises the sponsoring organization of that fact.
